

On March 16th, the following was posted on the Official Maryland State website:

The State of Maryland has taken far-reaching and proactive steps to minimize the impact of COVID-19 across our state, including ordering state employees to telework, closing public schools, closing casinos and racetracks, and activating the National Guard so it is ready to carry out any emergency functions that may be needed.

Governor Hogan has ordered the closure of bars, restaurants, movie theaters, and gyms effective at 5 p.m. on March 16. Businesses which provide drive-through, carry-out and food delivery services may continue to do so.

Gatherings of more than 50 people—including social, community, religious, recreation, and sporting events—are now strictly prohibited in all locations and venues in Maryland. This follows updated CDC guidelines.

These unprecedented measures are necessary to slow the spread of the virus and save the lives of Marylanders.

State agencies including the Department of Commerce remain prepared to serve our clients in the business community.
